

"FAMILIES ARE TALKING!"

TALKING WITH YOUNG KIDS ABOUT BODIES, BIRTH, AND SEXUALITY

When: Tuesday, June 17th from 5:30-7:00 pm

Where: The Family Resource Center, 4000 N. Cummings St.

What: This interactive workshop will empower parents to have age-appropriate conversations with their kids.

Why: Sending healthy and positive messages helps kids feel good about their bodies and protects their health.

Can I bring my kid? Babies in arms are welcome! Sorry, child care will not be provided.

Participants will learn:

- ❖ What kids (ages 0-8) need to know about these topics and when they need to know it
- ❖ How parents can identify their attitudes and values about sexuality
- ❖ Tips for talking with kids and specific steps for answering questions
- ❖ Resources for more information

Questions? Contact Rachel Billowitz, MPH, Sexual Health Educator at 928-699-2807.

Open to the public and FREE!
