Under Titles VI and VII of the Civil rights Act of 1964 and the Americans' with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA) Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Age Discrimination Act of 1975, The Association for Supportive Child Care (ASCC) prohibits discrimination in admissions, programs, services, activities or employment based on race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age and disability. ASCC must make reasonable accommodation to allow a person with a disability to take part in a program, service or activity. Auxiliary aids and services are available upon request to individuals with disabilities. For example, this means that if necessary, ASCC must provide sign language interpreters for people who are deaf, a wheelchair accessible location or enlarged print materials. It also means that ASCC will take any other reasonable action that allows you to take part in an activity. If you believe that you will not be able to understand or take part in a program or activity because of your disability, please let us know of your disability needs in advance, if at all possible.
